NEW QUESTION: 1

Your network contains a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2012 R2. Server1 has the Print and Document Services server role installed. You connect a new print device to the network. The marketing department and the sales department will use the print device. You need to provide users from both departments with the ability to print to the network print device.

The solution must ensure that if there are multiple documents queued to print, the documents from the sales users print before the documents from the marketing users.

What should you do on Server1?

- A. Add two printers and configure printer pooling.
- B. Add one printer. Modify the printer priority and the security settings.
- C. Add one printer and configure printer pooling.
- D. Add two printers. Modify the priorities of each printer and the security settings of each printer.

Answer: D

Explanation:

http://wiki.answers.com/Q/How_do_you_set_different_print_priority_for_different_users

How do you set different print priority for different users? To set different print priority to different groups Open Printers and Faxes.

Right-click the printer you want to set, click Properties, and then click the Advanced tab. In Priority, click the up or down arrows, and then click OK. Or, type a priority level, where 1 is the lowest level and 99 is the highest, and then click OK. Click Add Printer to add a second logical printer for the same physical printer. For instructions.

Click the Advanced tab.

In Priority, set a priority higher than that of the first logical printer. Instruct the regular group of users to use the first logical printer name and the group with higher priority to use the second logical printer name. Set the appropriate permissions for the different groups.

Creating a printing pool

You can create a printing pool to automatically distribute print jobs to the next available printer. A printing pool is one logical printer connected to multiple printers through multiple ports of the print server. The printer that is idle receives the next document sent to the logical printer. This is useful in a network with a high volume of printing because it decreases the time users wait for their documents. A printing pool also simplifies administration because multiple printers can be managed from the same logical printer on a server. With a printing pool created, the user prints a document without having to find out which printer is available. The logical printer checks for an available port and sends documents to ports in the order that they are added.

Adding the port connected to the fastest printer first ensures that documents are sent to the printer that can print the fastest before they are routed to slower printers in the printing pool. Before setting a printing pool, consider the following:

All printers in a pool must use the same driver.

Because users will not know which printer in the pool prints a given document, make sure all printers in the pool are located in the same place.

NEW QUESTION: 2

You work for an OEM system builder named Fabrikam, Inc.

You use Windows Deployment Services (WDS) to start bare metal deployments that use Pre-Boot Execution Environment (PXE) and a 32-bit boot image. The boot image starts to a command prompt and automatically establishes a network connection.

You plan to create a reference image of the 64-bit version of Windows 8 Pro.

From the distribution share, you execute Windows Setup from the Windows 8 Pro 64-bit source files and you receive an error message indicating that Windows Setup is incompatible with the version of Windows that you are running.

You need to ensure that you can create the reference image.

What should you do?

- A. Run setup.exe and specify the /InstallFrom parameter.
- B. Specify the MetaData setting in an answer file.
- C. Configure the BIOS to use Unified Extensible Firmware Interface (UEFI) mode.
- D. Create a boot image that contains a 64-bit version of Windows Preinstallation Environment (Windows PE).

Answer: D
