NEW QUESTION: 1

- A. MERGE
- B. CROSS JOIN
- C. GROUP BY
- D. GROUP BY CUBE
- E. PIVOT
- F. LEFT JOIN
- G. GROUP BY ROLLUP
- H. UNPIVOT

Answer: G

Explanation:

Explanation

In the result sets that are generated by the GROUP BY operators, NULL has the following uses:

* If a grouping column contains NULL, all null values are considered equal, and they are put into one NULL group.

* When a column is aggregated in a row, the value of the column is shown as NULL.

Example of GROUP BY ROLLUP result set:

NEW QUESTION: 2

Identify the tool best suited to import a portion of a relational database every day as files into HDFS, and generate Java classes to interact with that imported data?

- A. Flume
- B. Sqoop
- C. Hive

- D. Hue
- E. Oozie
- F. Pig
- G. fuse-dfs

Answer: B

Explanation:

Sqoop ("SQL-to-Hadoop") is a straightforward command-line tool with the following capabilities:

Imports individual tables or entire databases to files in HDFS

Generates Java classes to allow you to interact with your imported data

Provides the ability to import from SQL databases straight into your Hive data warehouse

Note:

Data Movement Between Hadoop and Relational Databases

Data can be moved between Hadoop and a relational database as a bulk data transfer, or relational tables can be accessed from within a MapReduce map function.

Note:

* Cloudera's Distribution for Hadoop provides a bulk data transfer tool (i.e., Sqoop) that imports individual tables or entire databases into HDFS files. The tool also generates Java classes that support interaction with the imported data. Sqoop supports all relational databases over JDBC, and Quest Software provides a connector (i.e., OraOop) that has been optimized for access to data residing in Oracle databases.

NEW QUESTION: 3

A company is running multiple applications on Amazon EC2. Each application is deployed and managed by multiple business units. All applications are deployed on a single AWS account but on different virtual private clouds (VPCs). The company uses a separate VPC in the same account for test and development purposes.

Production applications suffered multiple outages when users accidentally terminated and modified resources that belonged to another business unit. A Solutions Architect has been asked to improve the availability of the company applications while allowing the Developers access to the resources they need.

Which option meets the requirements with the LEAST disruption?

- A. Create an AWS account for each business unit. Move each business unit's instances to its own account and set up a federation to allow users to access their business unit's account.
- B. Implement a tagging policy based on business units. Create an IAM policy so that each user can terminate instances belonging to their own business units only.
- C. Set up role-based access for each user and provide limited permissions based on individual roles and the services for which each user is responsible.
- D. Set up a federation to allow users to use their corporate credentials, and lock the users down to their own VPC. Use a network ACL to block each VPC from accessing other VPCs.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Principal - Control what the person making the request (the principal) is allowed to do based on the tags that are attached to that person's IAM user or role. To do this, use the `aws:PrincipalTag/key-name` condition key to specify what tags must be attached to the IAM user or role before the request is allowed.
